1 Introduction

- 1.1 BASE Academy Trust is committed to providing teaching and learning efficiently, effectively and economically to its pupils. Equally, the school wishes to preserve its reputation as a fair and equitable employer who provides good working conditions where the highest standards of teaching and learning can be achieved and maintained. The school is mindful of its responsibility to balance the needs of the individual employee with the requirement to deliver high standards of teaching and learning to its pupils.
- 1.2 The school recognises that there are occasions where an employee's performance, for whatever reason, fails to meet the standard required. This policy and the associated procedures for handling such issues is designed to provide the employee with the opportunity to understand how and why their performance does not meet the needs of the school and its pupils, and to encourage the employee to improve their performance.
- 1.3 The procedure is not intended to exclude other measures, e.g. training and development, which may be considered appropriate for the purpose of encouraging an employee to improve their performance, but it represents a standard approach which provides the employee with opportunities to hear how and why their performance is considered unsatisfactory and to offer any explanation about this which they wish to put forward and the opportunity to remedy the situation with appropriate support.
- 1.4 The overall objective of the procedure is to provide a framework around which an employee's performance can be improved so that it meets the standards required.

2 Scope and definition

- 2.1 This procedure is designed to deal with unsatisfactory standards of performance by an employee that it is believed may be due to a lack of the necessary ability, aptitude, knowledge or skills required to do the job.
- 2.2 It does not deal with sickness absence. It is acknowledged, however, that health problems, particularly those that are stress related, may be identified in the course of the procedure.
- 2.3 In such cases the Managing Sickness Absence Policy and Workplace Stress Policy should be used and the advice of the School's HR Adviser or occupational health provider will be sought to try to find the most appropriate individual solution.
- 2.4 Similarly, matters of misconduct do not fall within the scope of this document and should be dealt with under the Disciplinary and Dismissal Policy. In this respect attitudinal difficulties relate more to conduct and if it should emerge that performance problems are related more to attitude than skills, knowledge, aptitude or health, the matter should be dealt with through the disciplinary procedure.
- 2.5 It should also be noted that this procedure does not apply to;
 - Termination of a fixed term Contract of Employment where the term of that contract expires without being renewed.

- Termination of a temporary appointment where the reason for termination is that the requirement for the employee's service has ceased or diminished, or is expected to cease or diminish.
- Termination during or at the end of a probationary period of service, whether or not extended beyond its originally specified duration.
- Termination of employment by reason of redundancy, whether or not competence and performance are criteria taken into account when selecting for redundancy.
- Resignation by the employee, or other termination by mutual consent.
- Inadequate performance believed to be attributable to a wilful refusal to work satisfactorily, which is liable to be regarded as a matter for action under the Disciplinary and Dismissal Policy.

3 Guiding principles

3.1 This procedure was drawn up having regard to the following guiding principles;

- to encourage a sensitive and constructive approach to capability issues by employees, Head Teachers and Governors
- to ensure capability issues are dealt with effectively and with clear outcomes at all stages
- to involve and recognise the value of the role of the Trade Unions in the operation of this procedure
- to ensure standards of work required are explained so that employees are clear as to what is expected of them
- to try to find solutions to overcome difficulties whilst protecting the shared interests of everyone concerned to sustain standards and quality in teaching and learning to pupils
- to recognise that whilst all reasonable efforts will be made to help improve and retain an individual employee with a capability problem, the School cannot guarantee to maintain employment

4 Aim of the policy

- 4.1 The aim of the policy is to ensure that employees can meet the basic requirements of the job and perform to the standards expected. This involves making clear what is expected, setting clear identifiable targets, monitoring performance, and providing appropriate training support to achieve the standards.
- 4.2 Where, despite this support, an employee is still unable to meet the standards required then it may be necessary to terminate their employment.
- 4.3 The procedure is staged to provide a framework for Head Teachers, Governors and employees to resolve performance difficulties but that does not mean that each stage must apply regardless of the severity of the performance shortfall.
- 4.4 There may be exceptional cases where the capability problem strikes at the heart of the contract and termination of employment may be the only option if suitable alternative work is not available. There may also be occasions when it becomes clear that the issue is one of conduct rather than capability which would warrant the matter being dealt with under the school's Disciplinary and Dismissal Policy.

5 Informal stage of the procedure

- 5.1 Head Teachers and Governors should, before entering into the stages of the procedure, ensure that School's HR Adviser is aware of the situation.
- 5.2 When meeting formally with the employee, the Head Teacher should normally be accompanied, this may be a representative from School's HR or a colleague, in order to ensure a record of the meeting and the outcome is made.
- 5.3 The Head Teacher should endeavour to ensure the employee is accompanied at any meeting, either by their Trade Union Representative, or a work colleague.
- 5.4 If a Head Teacher is concerned about an employee's standard of performance, the following process should be followed;
 - i. Wherever possible, it is important to draw the employee's attention to issues as they arise but if this does not appear to be resolving the problem or the matter is more complex, then an initial investigation and appraisal of the employee's performance should be undertaken, so that the issue can be clearly identified.
 - ii. The Head Teacher should then undertake an informal counselling interview with the employee, highlighting areas where performance is not considered to be satisfactory and give clear specific examples of problem areas and identify where improvements are required. Suggestions should be made as to ways in which improvement can be achieved. The Head Teacher should listen to any explanation or statements made and be prepared to adjourn the meeting, if necessary, to investigate any points raised by the employee.
 - iii. It should be made clear to the employee that informal counselling about capability problems is an attempt to understand the reason for and hopefully solve such problems.
 - iv. It is important that the informal counselling encourages the employee to explain anything that may be affecting their performance, e.g. domestic problems, health issues, resource imbalance. If the source of the problem relates to a health issue then, if appropriate, the employee should be referred to Occupational Health and medical advice sought.
 - v. At the end of the meeting the Head Teacher should confirm with the employee what has been discussed and agreed. The Head Teacher should ensure that they has clearly explained the standard of performance required the training or other support to be made available and confirmed that performance will be monitored over a specified period.
- 5.5 It is important that accurate notes are kept of the discussion and that the employee is made aware that failure to improve performance could result in the matter being dealt with on a formal basis.
- 5.6 If the problem remains, or is of a more serious nature, the Head Teacher should move to the formal stage of the procedure.

6 Formal stage of the procedure

Stage 1

- 6.1 Normally, the period given for improvement will be no more than six months after the date of entry into the Formal Procedure (in exceptional circumstances this period could be extended).
- 6.2 The frequency of review meetings during this period will depend on the circumstances of each case. In extreme cases where poor performance is likely to present a risk to the school, staff or pupils, then the period given for improvement in performance after the date of a formal warning will be no more than 4 weeks.
- 6.3 The employee should normally be given notice, of at least 48 hours, of a meeting with the Head Teacher and be advised of their right to be represented. The Head Teacher should write to the employee and state the issues that will be discussed at the meeting.
- 6.4 The Head Teacher should begin the meeting by outlining the problem as they see it, remind the employee of the standards required and seek to confirm with the employee's agreement that there is a shortfall in performance.
- 6.5 The Head Teacher must listen to any reasons given or statements made by the employee and be prepared to adjourn the meeting, if necessary, to investigate any points raised. It is important that the employee is given the opportunity to explain anything that may be affecting their performance.
- 6.6 At the end of the meeting, the Head Teacher should:
 - i. Confirm their decision in writing to the employee and any action points made.
 - ii. Set up a performance improvement plan with the employee with a timetable for improvement. It is important that the Head Teacher monitors performance against the improvement plan on a regular basis in order to:
 - iii. provide support and guidance to the employee, hopefully to assist them to improve their performance;
 - iv. to be aware of and document problem areas for further discussion;
 - v. Should an opinion be needed from Occupational Health, the Head Teacher should also refer to this in the letter to the employee. It is important that Occupational Health is provided with a thorough and accurate account of the problem.
 - vi. Issue a formal warning to the employee that their performance is below standard and advise them that failure to improve their performance could ultimately lead to dismissal should they continue to fail to meet the standard required.
 - vii. The employee will have the right to appeal against any Formal Warning issued. This should be done within ten working days of receipt of the letter. Any appeal should be to the Chair of Governors. The employee has the right to be represented by their Trade Union or accompanied by a friend.

Stage 2

- 6.7 If the employee's performance continues to remain below standard, or is seriously below the standard required, the employee should be advised, normally with at least 48 hours' notice that a meeting is to be held to discuss their performance. The issues to be addressed should be outlined and the employee advised of their right to be represented (as in paragraph 6.3).

- 6.8 The Head Teacher should state the problem to the employee and remind them of what is required. The Head Teacher will need to listen to what the employee has to say (as in 5.5, it is important that due account is taken of any medical information which the employee has provided and a referral made to the occupational health provider, if appropriate). The Head Teacher should be prepared to adjourn the meeting, if necessary, to investigate any points raised by the employee.
- 6.9 At the end of the meeting the Head Teacher will need to;
- Confirm the discussion and action points;
 - Set up a final performance improvement programme with the employee, with a timetable set for improvement as outlined in (paragraph 6.6 ii.)
 - Issue a final warning to the employee explaining what will happen if they continue to fail to meet the standard required.
 - The employee will have the right to appeal against any Formal Warning issued. This should be done within ten working days of receipt of the letter. Any appeal should be to the Chair of Governors. The employee has the right to be represented by their Trades Union or accompanied by a friend.

Stage 3

6.10 The employee will be advised in writing of arrangements for a Formal Capability Hearing and at least 10 working days' notice will be provided. The notification will include the purpose of the meeting, copies of any written evidence to be submitted, relevant documents to be referred to, and details of any witnesses to be called. The employee will be advised of the right to be accompanied by a Trade Union Representative or colleague.

6.11 The panel for the hearing will consist of;

- Three Governors
- A School's HR Adviser who will be present to advise the panel on process.

6.12 The hearing to be conducted in accordance with procedure outlined in Appendix A.

6.13 The panel considering a capability issue will need to consider;

- An outline of the employee's job role within school, including their date of commencement, job description, application form and training record.
- The performance standards required of the post holder.
- Reasons why the standards are achievable.
- The reasons for setting the standards.
- Where the employee falls short of performance (with evidence where appropriate).
- Steps that the Head Teacher has taken to improve the employee's performance including dates and times of meetings with copies of letters sent and your notes of meetings held.

- The Head Teacher's response to any explanations or statements of the employee.

6.14 The panel may determine that either;

- No further action is taken.
- There is a further opportunity to improve performance, together with any specific recommendations.
- An alternative post is offered, which may be at a lower level of responsibility and grade and salary.
- Contract of employment be terminated with the required period of notice.

6.15 The employee will be advised of the right of appeal against the decision and the decision will be conveyed in writing within five working days.

6.16 Any appeal must be registered in writing to the Chair of Governors within ten working days of receipt of the letter confirming the outcome.

6.17 The appeal hearing will be conducted in accordance with Appendix A and the decision of the panel will be final.
